

~~Fig. 3~~
2

All movements of the foot are reversed in rats after the muscles of the shank are transplanted (fig.) or when the nerves to the muscles are interchanged. Attempts to brace foot against floor or to rise on toes cause foot ~~to~~ to swing upward and ~~to~~ rat slips back on its heel.

